Officials mull idea of zoning for county

By BILL SHERROD

Zoning in Appomattox County was discussed from future undesirable commercial and industrial use.

The presentation, billed as an informational meeting, was shown to groups and organizations throughout the county. W.Coleman Jr., Planning Commission member and a Supervisor, the county board of Noting that there are as many reasons for zoning as have no opinion on zoning as there are for or against it. Coleman said he presents it to the public.

He presented a program focused on zoning regulations as planning guide, regulatory burdens for the citizens of Appomattox.

Tommy Lawson, Appomattox Town Councilman, said he doesn't have enough people, in population to warrant county-wide zoning.

"Zoning will be a good thing if it's fair," Lawson noted. "It is necessary if there are a large population to warrant county-wide zoning."

Bill Williamson echoed Lawson's sentiments, noting that zoning is "people telling people what they can do with their property."

Coleman noted "The only reason for zoning is to put a stop to undesirable property by people like you're taking control away from the people."

Coleman on who would write the zoning for Appomattox: Richmond who's never been to Appomattox, or would it be people who live in Appomattox County?

Bill Hibbert, of the Central Virginia Planning District Commission, explained the purposes, including the protection of property values, how it will be a growing community, and the stabilizing policy for a long range plan.

He added that an estimated 100 million acres of farmland per year, highway development, and urban sprawl are the other major consumptive land uses.

Hibbert said that a healthy county would have the zoning divided into acres and districts of the land in each of the districts. The regulations would be written for the health, safety, and welfare of the people and to encourage "people are afraid of zoning. If it were instituted, and made as simple as possible, it would not be restrictive, economic or even put on a total basis for three or five years...the maybe zoning and accept it permanently."

On the agenda for this meeting will be the election of officers and setting time for baseball, football, basketball and cheerleaders.

A TRACTOR-TRAILER carrying new cars bottomed out on the railroad crossing at Church and Main Streets last Thursday, and created some excitement down in the depot. Local merchants and curious passers watched as efforts ensued to free the vehicle. Using another truck to give a shove, workers freed the tractor-trailer, and its burden came of the incident (Photo by Bill Sherrod).

Heart drive begins

Do you, like a lot of people, have a history of heart disease in your family? Is there a tendency toward high blood pressure, diabetes and obesity in your family? Are you aware that of the 1.5 million Americans who suffer heart attacks each year, about half die?

Heart disease, stroke, and related circulatory diseases cause more than 40 million Americans and are responsible for half of all deaths in this country.

The goal for Appomattox County, according to Mrs. Coleman Hall, is to raise $10,000 in the American Heart Association campaign.

The American Heart Association has a message that is very important to you and your family. Now is the time to make a decision about your health and your heart healthy. You'll look better and feel better if you do. And you'll remember this. Don't smoke. If you have already started, put your money where your mouth is and quit. Good nutrition is important, too. Eat well balanced meals, and cut down on fats, sugars and salt.

Regular exercise is important to your health. Get regular exercise, it will help bring on deposits that can block the blood vessels leading to the heart.

Are you aware that the American Heart Association is fighting for your life.

The American Heart Association is a health agency whose sole mission is to reduce early death and disability from heart disease and stroke.

When a American Heart Association campaign calls on you, make your contribution. It's not worth it. Good nutrition is important, too. Eat well balanced meals, and cut down on fats, sugars and salt.
